What the model uses (grey) against what it needs (colour). A negative cost means the arm is worth removing.